

Half The Man, Twice The Lover

You were strong and I was weak yeah
Far and yet so close
You took me in and washed me down
From my head down to my toes
Out of the ashes of the phoenix
Like a hit out of the blue
I woke up and felt my heart
But the days left were to few

When we were loving it was easy
Doing just fine
When we were loving it was easy
Freeing my mind
When we were loving it was easy
Feeling devine
I'm half the man, twice the lover
Since you came into my live

It's all so puzzling and I can't handle the fact
That I was sleeping when you were right here
And now we can't connect
I wish that I was stronger
To step up to you girl
But I'm half the man hiding myself
And still you rock my world

When we were loving it was easy
Doing just fine
When we were loving it was easy
Easing my mind
When we were loving it was easy
Feeling devine
I'm half the man, twice the lover
Since you came into my live

I guess someday the storm is through `Cause I could use such a boon
I hope this day will be soon
`Cause i don`t know where to go
So we could see us down the road
I shot the door, you`ve got the key
We`ll wait and see

When we were loving it was easy
Doing just fine
When we were loving it was easy
Easing my mind
When we were loving it was easy
Feeling devine
I`m half the man, twice the lover
Since you came into my live

Words and music by Peter Finc